

Summary

A messenger who failed to deliver a message the first time is sent again with the same goal but with the repercussions of his past failure.

A test of commitment and faith.